The RCM Council has appointed a Courtyard Project Board, which will be a sub-committee of the Finance & General Purposes Committee (F&GPC). The Project Board will oversee the governance of the Courtyard development to ensure that the Courtyard development is delivered, in reasonable time, within agreed budgets and to the required quality. The Project Board will include members of RCM Council, Directorate and external experts. Day-to-day management of the Courtyard Project will be by the RCM Project Team, who will report to the Project Board.

Terms of reference

1. Scheme of delegation

F&GPC will receive and review reports/advice from CYPB and advise Council accordingly. Council will receive reports from officers and sub committees and make decisions regarding the Courtyard budget accordingly. All change control will be reported to the CYPB and F&GPC at their next meeting, together with a running total of costs of change control.

Throughout the Courtyard development there will be project changes which must be approved or rejected, by RCM. In order not to delay building works, decisions must be made in a timely manner and the RCM Council has agreed a range of delegated authorities, up to a combined maximum change in any one calendar month of £250,000:

For an individual change of more than £250,000, or where total changes in any one month exceed £250,000, a working group consisting of the Director, Deputy Director, Director of Finance & Estates, the Chairman, Chairman of F&GPC and Chairman of the Courtyard Project Board.

Annex

Background to the Courtyard project

The RCM has an ambitious plan to transform what we offer to students and visitors alike; to carry out much-needed work to our South Kensington estate; and to create an interactive hub at the heart of the RCM. Taken together, these changes will enable us to maintain our position as a world-leading conservatoire in a highly competitive market and, at the same time, create an environment that welcomes and inspires the visiting public. This development will also meet demand arising from a 20% increase in student numbers in the last five years.

Our plans are centred on developing the open courtyard space that sits at the heart of the Prince Consort Road (PCR) campus in South Kensington. The redevelopment of the Courtyard will create new social spaces, a Museum, additional practice rooms and two new performance venues and technologically advanced spaces for rehearsals, recording and exhibitions. At the same time, new connections between existing spaces will be made possible, transforming how the campus is experienced, with the Courtyard becoming a hub and meeting place for students, staff and visitors.

The Courtyard is a large and relatively unused space located at a key central juncture of the campus and its redevelopment is pivotal to the RCM Strategic Plan (attached). Given the location, and the possibilities offered by its volume and adjacencies, the redevelopment of the Courtyard can achieve many objectives in parallel:

- creation of new contemporary facilities by replacing existing facilities (in the Courtyard and South Building) which are not fit for purpose;

- improved circulation starting from the main entrance to the PCR campus through to all other areas of the campus;
- manifesting the ten-year vision for the RCM by showcasing our development objectives as they relate to teaching, music making and performance;
- creation of new social spaces; a new heart for the campus where students, teachers and visitors can interact, allowing the RCM to stay connected to the music profession and the community it serves; and
- facilitate commercial exploitation of the RCM estate through provision of new performance/events spaces to attract external clients from the music educational, professional and commercial world.

An initial design brief for the Courtyard was generated by balancing:

- potential available space against a list of needs;
- developable spaces which are no longer fit for purpose; and
- likely project budget.

This initial brief was then tested through a detailed feasibility study and modified into the current Design Brief. Future users of the spaces (students, professors, researchers, managers and visitors) contributed to the Design Brief and will continue to be engaged throughout development of the design. The overall amount of new space will be approximately 2,300m²:

- two performance spaces (of 150+ and 90+ seats) which reflect contemporary standards of acoustic quality, sound insulation and lighting;
- additional music practice rooms (we may decide to use prefabricated practice pods rather than building these on site);
- the Museum of Music to house and display the RCM's Special Collections (musical instruments, works of art, manuscripts, etc.);
- a new concourse to provide: space for breakout; a café/restaurant area; a theatre bar;
- additional and upgraded WC facilities;
- redevelopment of the RCM Inner and Outer Halls incorporating new DDA access, a reception area and box office/shop (this is existing space, i.e. additional m² to the Courtyard).

The RCM is undertaking one further project closely related to the Courtyard: refurbishment and re-organisation of the South Building. This is a separate project which does not form part of this tender, but it will be important that the Courtyard is implemented in tandem with this project.

Investment Committee of the Finance & General Purposes Committee

Terms of Reference

1. To determine and recommend to Council the RCM's Investment Strategy and Policy in the light of capital and income requirements.
2. To establish criteria leading to guidelines and ranges within which an asset allocation policy appropriate to the RCM's funds is pursued, including broad asset allocation guidelines and ranges.

4. To appoint investment managers, acting on the authority of the RCM Council.
5. To determine benchmarks for the measurement of investment performance.
6. To identify and evaluate significant risks related to the RCM's portfolio of investments, deposits and cash and to advise the Finance & General Purposes Committee on the RCM's risk appetite and possible mitigating actions.
7. To receive quarterly reports from investment managers and to meet regularly with them to review these reports.
8. To report to the Finance & General Purposes Committee of RCM Council on the state of performance of RCM investments and to advise on changes.
9. To review and approve the counterparty list; and the maximum value of deposits to be placed with any one counterparty, for the placement of short-term deposits (up to 24 months), acting on the authority of the RCM Council.

The aims of each RCM investment fund

Scholarship & Awards Fund: an in-perpetuity fund for generating income for scholarships. As well as using this fund to support current students we must maintain and grow the capital to support generations of future students. It is not anticipated that there will be any significant capital drawdown and income generated by the fund must increase annually in order to increase the number of RCM funded scholarships and to keep pace with tuition fee inflation. Fund growth will come from two sources: investment growth; and capital and legacy donations;

General Fund: a short/mid/long-term fund established to work in coordination with the RCM's working capital requirements. As such it should provide a relatively safe haven for capital, whilst earning income at higher rates than can be achieved on short-term deposits.

Junior Department Fund: a long-term fund with the purpose of generating income for bursaries; it is not anticipated that there will be significant draw down of capital from the fund.

Investment restrictions

With the exception of British Government securities and unit trusts, without approval by the RCM Council:

- investment in a single issuer shall not exceed 5% of the market value of the portfolio; and
- the portfolio shall not hold more than 2.5% of any one issuer's securities.

STANDING ORDERS

Royal Charter and Statutes

The RCM Royal Charter and Statutes sets out the arrangements for the Council and the Senate, including quoracy, membership, and the conduct of proceedings.

Standing Orders for Committees of the Senate

- The Director, on the advice of the Senate, appoints committee chairs and members. Where appointment to a committee is not determined by virtue of the occupation of a particular post, an appointment will normally be for a period of office of three years.
- The quorum of committees is a minimum of one third of the membership. If a meeting is inquorate, the Chair shall decide whether to proceed with the meeting, taking into account the urgency of the business on the agenda. When a meeting proceeds on this basis, notes will be taken of matters discussed and presented to the next meeting.
- All committees/groups are expected to undertake such other tasks as may be requested by the Senate.
- The Director has an ex officio right to attend meetings of all committees and working groups.
- Meetings of committees are open to interested members of staff to observe. Those wishing to attend must secure the agreement of the Chair at least one full working day before the meeting, as there will sometimes be business where observers are not appropriate. Observers will not normally participate in discussions, unless invited to do so by the Chair.
- Student representatives will be asked to withdraw for agenda items reserved as closed business.
- There will be occasions when action needs to be taken between meetings of a committee. The Chair, taking advice as necessary from the Deputy Director, is empowered to make decisions on the committee's behalf, subject to advance consultation with members wherever possible and operating within the College's regulations and procedures. All decisions taken under Chair's action will be reported to members at the next meeting.

Standing Orders for Boards of Examiners

- Operation of the Chair. There will be occasions when it is not practical to call a meeting of the Board of Examiners, but where rapid decisions are necessary in the interest of individual students. The Chair is empowered, taking advice from the Deputy Director, to make decisions affecting individual students on the Board's behalf, subject to advance consultation with members wherever possible and operating within the course regulations and guidelines. Particular effort will be made to consult external examiners in these circumstances. All Chair's decisions will be reported to members.
- Servicing the Board of Examiners and the Sub-Board of Examiners. The record of all meetings will be drafted by the secretary, who is the relevant administrator. These will remain confidential to members of the board and those who formally advise it.
